GRAIN MARKETS ARE EXCITED, MARKED BY SOARING OF PRICES

Chicago, April 26.—Extraordinary soaring of prices in the grain markets today was accompanied by a renewal of speculative purchasing on a large scale. Rye led the way with a steep rise of 10 cents a bushel. Corn followed, with an ascent of 5c or more for all deliveries, touching at one time $1.72 1/2 for May, as compared with $1.67 1/4 at the finish yesterday.

Big export business of late in breadstuffs formed the basis of much of the buying and so too continued unseasonable weather making farm work so difficult as to be an evident menace to production.

Before the day ended an extreme advance of 1/2 cent had been scored in the July delivery of corn which touched $1.66 1/2 with May at $1.73 1/2. Exports were heavy in the last part of the session that owing to the unusually sharp upturn in values British and French export interests had temporarily ceased buying.

Washington, April 26.—The federal government today won its anti-trust suit against the Reading and Lehigh coal companies, which were charged in one of the so-called anthracite coal cases.

A vote of 4 to 3, the supreme court decided that the companies violated the "commodities clause" of the interstate commerce act and ordered the dissolution of the companies.

Justice Clarke rendered the decision for the majority while Chief Justice White, in a minority opinion, said the decision was in favor of accepting the opinion of the lower court.

Associate Justices McReynolds and Brandeis did not participate in the decision.

Lehigh Case Not Settled

Another of the so-called anthracite coal cases against the Lehigh Valley company and its subsidiaries is pending and when Clarke read his decision in the Reading case today it was first assumed that this case also has been decided. CITY STILL SHORT OF SUGAR, POTATOES; COAL BINS DEPLETED

The sugar shortage continues acute in Janesville. Little arrived in the city over the week-end. Frosting and powdered sugar are being substituted in the market for the sweet at any price.

Similar conditions exist in potatoes. To date, however, the famine has not been so noticeable as in sugar.

Sam, Saturday, came out flat-footed for a greater use of dehydrated foods. A brief survey this morning showed that the city's stock of potatoes was small in quantity locally.

Sufficient green-stuffs are on the market, though both commission houses and retailers report that they are running low. Vegetables are still coming in via truck and express. Strawberries have witnessed no decrease in price. The price of pint boxes retained today at a quarter.

Janesville coal bins are practically depleted. Resident consumers who run out are experiencing hard trouble in getting coal. The city's coal supply has been depleted to such an extent that the city in the next few days, it is predicted, will be compelled to partially close its coal supply.

Yegg de Luxe Card Indexed All His Calls

Knew All Pawnbrokers.

Police also found address lists listing loot sold with the price obtained and a list of pawnbrokers with the type of goods each preferred to buy.

When James was killed he was found to be wearing a suit belonging to former United States Senator William Lorimer. The suit was one of 40 stolen from the Lorimer home.

CHURCHES RAISE BIG FUND SUNDAY

United Brethren Go Over Top—Baptists Close Up for Interchurch.

Strong sermons were preached at both morning and evening services yesterday at the Richards Memorial United Brethren church when Dr. W. E. Schell, Dayton, presented the claims of the interchurch campaign. The text for the morning was "Love Thine Neighbor," from John 21st.

The quota for this church in the campaign now on, is $1000. The morning service about $800 was pledged for this purpose. In the afternoon a canvass was made of those not at the morning session which resulted in going over the top by more than 15 per cent. The amount raised in pledges for the two years totalled $2476, with quite a number of interested people yet to be seen.

The captains of the afternoon campaign were Rev. J. Hart Truesdale, W. J. C. Schell, and Miss Ella McDonald. Those who assisted were, Joseph Moort, Louis Henke, Edward Ward, H. Gillingham, Mrs. Truesdale and Lester Mack.

Baptists Raise $30,000

Thirty thousand dollars, $30,000, to be raised by the Baptist churches in their first day of the campaign now on, is the goal set by the interchurch campaign. The work was done by nine teams under the directorship of C. L. Williams. They followed a campaign mapped out in four weeks.

The work will extend over the rest of this week, the next meeting being made Thursday.

Rev. G. G. Schell, the pastor, believes that the balance can easily be raised before next Sunday.

Other Churches.

Although reports are available from the Presbyterian and Congregational churches, team leaders report their quotas will be raised easily.

The work of the Congregational church worked yesterday to raise the quota, $2,450.

George Wright, Presbyterian leader, said he believed the greater portion of the church's $1,500 was raised yesterday, although he had no final report ready.

WILSON'S PROGRAM FOR SETTLEMENT IS TURNED DOWN

QUESTION REMAINS IN NEGOTIATION BETWEEN ITALY AND JUGOSLAVIA.

FRENCH WIN OUT

Make Agreement With British on Measures to Enforce Treaty.

San Remo, April 26.—The council of premiers at the request of Premier Nitti of Italy and Foreign Minister Trumbach of Yugoslavia, will allow the Adriatic question to remain in negotiation between the Italian and Yugoslav governments, it was learned today.

Reports that the Adriatic question would be settled by the San Remo council in accordance with President Wilson's program, appeared with San Remo's dispatches last night to be at least premature.

Nitti Proposes Buffer State.

It was stated that the settlement proposed by Premier Nitti, though following generally the lines of President Wilson's note of Dec. 2, varied from it by including a constitution for the buffer state of Fiume to which both the French and British premiers objected, considering that it limited too largely the character of the new state, which would be at least premature.

The text of the declaration was particularly pleasing to the French. The joint declaration will begin by setting forth that an increase of the French army cannot even be considered, which would be a declaration that the allies will not insist on too technical an interpretation of the treaty.

The declaration will assert the determination of the allies not to annex any part of Germany's territory. It will declare the view of the allies that Germany's government should be preferable to an exchange of notes and that they are disposed to undertake direct conversations with the German government. The declaration will end by asserting that the unity of the allies for the execution of the treaty is as complete as the unity of the allies for the execution of the treaty.

After this morning's session the following communiqué was issued: The council, in the presence of military and naval experts, approved the aerial clauses of the Versailles treaty. A resolution and problems were entrusted to commissions of contrived.

Belgium Is Pleased.

Paul Hymans, Belgian foreign minister said that the Belgians were "greatly satisfied with results of the conference and with the demonstration of the intimate and sincere union of the allies."

The impression in Europe, and particularly in Belgium, was considerable," he declared. "Germany will realize that her maneuver to her and that the allies have turned against her and that the allies' indulgence in execution of the treaty."

Mr. Hymans' statement was made at a conference with the French newspaper correspondent, Continuing.

The disarmament of Germany is a matter that is the center of the conference's attention. It is necessary under Germany's inoffensiveness. We like French point, a special of importance to this need and the supreme council entirely agreed with this point of view."

HOW TO RAISE BABY CHICKS

Put Avicol in the drinking water.

Most people lose half of every hatch, and seem to expect it. Chickens that die white diarrhoea is the trouble. The U. S. Government states that over half the chicks hatched die from this cause.

An Avicol tablet placed in the drinking water, will positively save your little chicks from all such diseases. Instead of the sick ones will be as lively as ever. Avicol keeps them healthy and makes them grow and develop.

Mrs. Vannie Thacker, R. F. D. 3, St. Paris, O., writes: "I had 90 chicks and they all died but 32. Then I commenced on Avicol and have lost only nine since. They have grown wonderfully."

It costs nothing to try Avicol. If you don't find that it prevents and cures white diarrhoea, chick cholera and all bowel diseases of poultry, tell us and your money will be refunded. Write for Avicol. It is sold by most druggists and poultry remedy dealers, or you can send 25¢ or 50¢ today for a trial bottle by mail postpaid. The DIARY OF AN ENGAGED GIRL

I WON THE BATTLE OF THE TROUSSEAU.

"My room is very hushed tonight. It is late. Maybe it is because some of my trousseau is decorating the bed and several chairs. Such exquisite things as they are."

"Mother is spinning to me as she goes to her room. It makes me wonder, for I have always adored mother, but she is so perfectly simple. Now, without any rhyme or reason she is letting me have my head."

"When I asked her the reason for this sudden change in her attitude, she smiled mysteriously and said, 'I would soon know enough. It's all nonsense for her to wrap a veil of mystery about the things she does just now, where I am concerned. I am just a girl, and she thinks me ignorant. I know men. I also understand their taste and transgressions. Poor little mother.'"

"We almost came to blows over my preference for bright colored undergarments this morning. Mother believes that every girl should be dressed in white. That's awfully old-fashioned, to my way of thinking. But I managed to have my own way. I bought green and lavender chiffon 'pretties' lying over the chair. And that perfectly ravishing black chiffon negligee with the crushed roses round the neck, that adds the place of honor on my

HEALTH TALKS

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. Only inquiries of general interest are answered in this column. Letters in ink and stamped, self-addressed envelope are enclosed. Address Dr. Wm. Brady, Gazette.

AUTOBIOGRAPHY OF Irresponsible

Those pitiful defects of nutrition known as "marasmus," "malnutrition," "athrepsia" and similarly unpleasant names are really due to poverty in some cases, but for more they are due to irresponsible motherhood, as my father calls it. In his practice he says that irresponsible motherhood is one of the greatest obstacles he has to contend with. By irresponsible motherhood father means mothers who assume that they have the right to experiment on their own babies and to permit any casual caller or acquaintance or corner druggist or "practical" nurse to experiment on them.

The most deplorable error into which these easy-going doctors and irresponsible mothers fall is the belief that any so-called infant food proper food for the baby. No one would for a moment assume that because beef broth or pickled peas happen to agree with an adult the adult's diet should consist of beef broth and pickled peas. But this kind of reasoning goes for the baby! Many of the proprietary foods are so loaded with sugars or starches that they quickly produce obesity in the baby—flabby, pale anemics fat. And so abnormal is the popular conception that many parents actually welcome the appearance of this disease state in their babies. Why, so popular has obesity become among the more ignorant classes that a normal baby is considered a failure if it is not a baby of his age should weigh, is deemed "fatty."

The indispensable accessory factors in a baby's food are known as vitamins, and without them a baby cannot possibly grow and develop normally. Fresh milk is rich in vitamins. Fresh meat, broths, fresh fruit juices and fresh vegetables cooked and strained through a sieve, also contain more or less vitamins. Intelligent parents will seek and follow to the letter, the physician's advice about infant feeding, at regular intervals throughout the first year. Irresponsible parents will accept any old suggestion from any old wisecracker who happens in.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.
ALLIGATOR SKIN.
A few months ago you published a recipe for alligator skin. I am a great sufferer and meant to have it prepared, but lost the clipping. You kindly reprint it? (Rev. A. S. W.)
ANSWER—Resorcinol of borax—40 grains Glycerine of water, enough to make 4 ounces.
Apply once a day, after washing and before the skin is quite dry.
Lady, Lady, Have a Heart!
I would like to have your monograph "How to Play Old Lady Nicotine." Further I would like to ask if there would be any danger to a man of 70 years in giving up smoking? I have suffered for forty years with the disease, and sometimes for weeks at a time I could do nothing but smoke now and then—couldn't even talk to my wife. Smoking doesn't seem to affect my nerves; you see I am writing that I have a pretty steady hand. But my wife—I always enjoy the pleasant humor as well as the sound teachings of your health talks. (Rev. B. J. A.) ANSWER—Wives! They are hard to please. If I were seventy and had suffered 40 years trying to talk with my wife—I mean from the doctor's point of view, I'd give up my affliction. Lady Nicotine is no person for youths to cultivate, but when a fellow is grown up to his full three score and then he has a right to a whole flock of pipes and ash trays in every room, says I. Wives! Was ever a wife quite content? You are welcome to the monograph, of course, but just between friends I advise you to present it to some envious fellow of forty or fifty who may get some good out of it.

There is No Secret Remedy.
My husband is a constant chewer of tobacco. I am sure it is the cause of his loss of weight and increasing irritability. Is there any remedy which will help to rid him of the habit? Would you advise giving him a secret cure in his coffee? (Mrs. S. L. S.) ANSWER—There is no secret remedy which can safely be administered. If the man is not lost to all sense of decency appeal to any traces of such sense there may be left and perhaps

How much should I give to make this a better world?

A BUSINESS man filled out his income tax report.

It showed an income so large that his tax was 53%. And his total gifts to church and charity for the year were $148.

Think of it—thousands spent for luxuries and pleasure for himself; and $148 to leave the world a little better than he found it!

Most of us do better than that; but not so very much better.

Our average daily gift for all church causes is——less than we spend for daily papers —less than a local telephone call —less than a third of the day's car fare —less than 3 cents a day

No wonder that 80% of the ministers of America are paid less than $20 a week. No wonder that the church hospitals turn away thousands of sick people a year. No wonder that every church board and charity society is forever meeting deficits, forever passing the hat.

It isn't because we are selfish; it isn't because we don't want to help. It's just because no one has ever put up a great big program to us, and asked us to think of the work of the church in a systematic businesslike way.

The Interchurch World Movement represents the united program of thirty great denominations. They have surveyed their whole task; no business could have done it better.

They have budgeted their needs; no business could have a more scientific budget. They have united to prevent the possibility of waste and duplication. At least a million dollars will be saved by the fact that thirty individual campaigns are joined in one united effort.

And they come to the men and women who love America—to you—this week, asking you to use them as the channel through which a certain definite part of your income can be applied to make this a better world.

Only you can determine what part of your income that should be. The chart printed here is intended merely as a suggestion; it represents a scale of giving of 6%—or less.

Six per cent of your earning power: 15/16ths of your life for your own family needs, and 1/16th for your fellow men—is that more than you ought to give?

It's a good time right now to answer that question. We're passing through the world just once; how much better is the world going to be because you passed through?

This day in 1813 the author as well as reliever of many human woes was born. He was Edward Maynard, the first great dentist of America or of the world, and the first to fill the cavity of a tooth with gold. Many other important things happened on this date. The colonists coming to Virginia arrived at Cape Henry in 1607, and Gen.
Jo. Johnston surrendered to Gen. Sherman at Goldboro, N. C., in 1865. Sunday was the anniversary of the first battle of the Mexican war in 1846.

MILK AS A FOOD AND MILK PRICE.

Wisconsin has 1,603,000 cows. That is the largest number in any one state. New York, which is next, has but 1,478,000, and Iowa and Minnesota each a hundred thousand less. Three billion dollars worth of milk was produced in a single year. It is an enormous sum in the aggregate. The making of butter, cheese, condensed milk and ice cream used up more than half of the product. Next to wheat, milk is the most important food product of the nation. Under the present conditions of farm labor there is likely to be an increased production of milk rather than less. Grain crops will be smaller in 1920. There will be a great diminishing of root crop production and acres heretofore tilled will go into grass and hay, unless the farm labor situation is relieved. "Use more milk," will be emphasized and the people will find it necessary without having a vigorous choice, to do so. Which brings us to the question of milk price. It is important that milk be sold at the lowest possible price. Consistent with good business management. It is possible to obtain substitutes for potatoes and sugar, but nothing can take the place of milk in the rearing of the family.

We are paying 14 cents a quart in Janesville homes for milk. That price has nothing to do with the price to wholesalers or large consumers.
That part is beside the question. Fourteen cents is more than double what the farmer gets.

The average gross cost on the average test of milk as submitted by one of the dealers in the conference with the Farm Bureau was 6 1/2 cents a quart. That means a gross profit of 115 percent on milk sold to the family. The gross profit of the packers' trust was shown to be 27 percent and the net profit less than 3 percent.

We ask in all candor if the people of the city of Janesville are not entitled to a less price than one which gives the distributor a gross profit of 115 percent. But if the average receipts for the milk handled are figured to include also the price received when large quantities are sold on an average of 12 cents a quart for all the milk purchased from the farmers, the gross profit is 84.6 percent.

On these figures submitted by the distributors and the statements made by the Farm Bureau it would seem that Janesville people are certainly entitled to milk at no higher price than its neighbors.

The fact that the small customer is paying 115 percent gross profit to the distributor is about all the argument that is necessary.

IN THE PRESIDENTIAL RACE.

The Literary Digest is taking a poll of its subscribers on the selection of president. Gen. Wood leads in the republican voting, with Hoover a near second. Johnson is only a few votes below Hoover. In the democratic column, Edwards leads, with McAdoo 500 votes behind. Gov. Low-den seems to be a small factor. Only three votes were cast in Wisconsin for Edwards, the candidate on the "personal liberty" platform, but perhaps and quite possible Milwaukee does not take the Literary Digest.

These are straws that show something of public opinion. In a survey of the presidential situation to date it may be said that the radical element in the republican party is supporting Johnson. The less radical progressives are giving votes to Gen.
Wood. The independent voters are supporting Hoover. This week there are to be six contests.
Ohio, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Arkansas, Idaho and Washington will select delegates. The moment of intense interest in the campaign of the different candidates has come and on the result of these elections and conventions in the six states named will largely depend the future of Gen.
Wood. If he loses all of them he will have far too few delegates to win at Chicago, and a failure at the beginning is likely to result in a deadlock which can only be broken by the nomination of some one less in the limelight or whose vote at the beginning will be small.

Before the convention is over the radical element will be arrayed on one side, with the consolidated vote of the opposing more conservative against them. What the answer will be is the merest conjecture. It is not at all probable that the vote of Lowden, Harding and Coolidge will go to Johnson. Here lies the opportunity for the believers in Herbert Hoover. In the campaign he occupies an unique place. He is making no campaign with either literature or missionaries. His vote is an expression of the spontaneous choice of the people. To name him would mean that thousands of democrats would break away from party lines and join in his election. He has declared himself in unmistakable terms against any policy of reaction and as opposed to revolutionary policies. And it would be well to put in place a man who is not a politician in any sense of the word as we know it, and change the order. Johnson, Low-den, and Coolidge are lawyers; Wood is a physician and soldier; Harding a newspaper publisher but more of a politician, and Hoover stands out as the one business man in the whole list. Since 1856 we have had but two men sitting in the White House who were not lawyers—Andrew Johnson, and Ulysses S. Grant. Roosevelt and Wilson were both admitted to the bar, but they never successfully practiced, the one seeking public life and constantly being a candidate, the other as a teacher and college president. We have never in the whole history of the nation had a business man in the White House. There have been soldiers, one farmer, one planter, three politicians or statesmen. It is time now, when the problems to be solved are more of business than law, to select a business man, and Herbert Hoover seems to qualify fully.

ITUME STILL IN A MUDDLE.

Cables today carry the news that the Fiume muddle is still far from being settled, and the recommendation of President Wilson to make it a buffer state, independent of both Italy and Yugo-Slavia, has not been accepted. Italy will accept if she can write the constitution for Fiume; otherwise she prefers that Yugo-Slavia have the city.
In the meantime, however, the council, playing the game of checkers with the territory of Europe and dividing the robs among themselves, have the poet D'Annunzio to deal with. He still occupies the city of Fiume and undoubtedly, with the complaisant permission, if not the connivance of Italy.
So long as Great Britain is given control of the enormous territories of the Near East, and in Arabia along with the Dardanelles key, it would seem that Italy should fairly be entitled to the mastery of the Adriatic.

The interest of the United States comes here, as it does in all of Europe, that peace among the covetous and quarrelling nations cease and trade and commerce be normally restored.

We have no interest in the land and territory grabbing, which is the feature that occupies the time of the council of the league of nations. It is a game that we have no right or reason for sitting in. If we had accepted the mandatory task, and fortunately we have escaped it, we would be called on to protect the new Armenian state. It has been determined that a half million troops will be necessary to save Armenia from the Turk and maintain order in Asia Minor. We are well out of it at that price.

MILLIONS FOR THE INTERCHURCH MOVEMENT.

Sunday marked the contribution of many millions for the Interchurch movement in the United States, and Janesville in line with the other centers of the country, did her part. This is the greatest revolutionary movement the church has fostered in the history of its existence. It means a more definite program and greater efficiency in the spread of the gospel and the message the church must bear to humanity. It is the first organized step to check the slump in Christianity.

Potatoes sold at from $1.20 to $2 a bushel in the fall and $3 in the winter are selling for $1.50 a peck now generally. These are surely not affected by the price or scarcity of farm labor in 1920. The price may and probably will be disturbed then and even higher prices prevail than is asked now in the coming fall and winter. There is a Hundred Percenter loose somewhere and the public would like to locate him.

While the democratic administration may be somewhat attenuated, it is still possessed of a large waste.

Greece was given Smyrna just as though it wasn't worth a fig.

OPINIONS OF OTHERS

WOODEN SHOES? NO, THANK YOU!

Except as they might be of use to the choruses in musical comedies that will trip on gaily with a click-clack motion, the Dutch exporters who have sent over here a consignment of wooden shoes with several female demonstrators are likely to have their trouble for their pains. The shoe question was settled in America centuries ago, and one of the great differentiations between this country and Europe has been ever that we have refused to set up a class and caste system. We have had here no peasantry, and in the matter of costumes we have none so poor as to be forced to wear those habiliments and attire that indicates class in Europe and a more or less hopeless inferior social position. Indeed, that Europe, even in States that call themselves prosperous and highly civilized, has failed to carry down the daily comforts to the greater number of people, though it may have been a picturesque side, was evident through the survival in Holland, France and Germany of crude forms of foot-gear revealing the very obvious inability of large numbers to afford more comfortable and serviceable attire.

These crudities of attire reached the climax of primitiveness in the wooden shoe. Whatever glamour long association with the life of the people has had thrown over the wooden shoe does not by any means make up for the fact that it is a very rude substitute for the real thing. And not the least significant feature of the American invasion of France during the war was the way in which certain districts which belonged to the American occupation, with great haste, advanced to the wooden shoes in favor of the discarded and second-hand American leather shoes. Custom and manners and conventions do not move backward, and nothing is less likely, therefore, than that we shall adopt either the implements, or utensils or articles of apparel which for centuries have represented the unprosperous and relative poverty of the large portions of the old world.—Philadelphia Public Ledger (Ind.)

State and Nation Press

According to Madison reports the legislature at its coming special session will enact laws to deal with the rent profiteer and also the profiteer in all food supplies. That's all very well. But once we have laws of that sort are they going to be enforced or simply become dead letters on the statute books? The public has grown tired of hearing about the various plans for dealing with so-called profiteers and then failing to see anything come of those plans. If the state or federal government really intends to take up the question of profiteering in earnest, let's get busy. If not let's forget about the matter altogether and busy ourselves trying to keep sufficient food on hand to meet the family bills.—Fond du Lac Reporter.

From Maine, the foremost potato state, comes news of hundreds of farms and scores of country towns where no males between 16 and 60 are left; where only the women-folk and old men are available for soil tilling. Similar conditions are reported from New Hampshire and Vermont. It also has been stated during the last week that at least seventy-five percent of the farmer boys taken from the fields during the draft have not returned to their former work, but now are working in shops and factories, where they get from three to ten times their former pay.—Philadelphia

SPRING'S PROMISE.
Out of the winter gloom come Into Maytime's splendor, Skies that once were gray and gloom Now are fair and tender; Apple blossoms burst forth in Petal's bright are spilling; Gardens that were bleak and bare Beauty now is filling.

Breezes that were harsh and cold Now are mild and fragrant, Every tree that we behold Has a new and happy fragrance; Mornings now are sweet with song And with childish laughter, Though the winter days were long, Joy has followed after.

This was promised long ago, Smiles should follow grieving, Roses fair should bloom and blow With the winter's leaving; Peace should take the place of pain, Bitter days of sadness Should not here be borne in vain, But should end in gladness.

Violets blossom where the snow Long has kept them sleeping, So shall joy be ours to know When we've done with weeping; Just as springtime with her flowers Makes the winter world so bright, So shall rest and peace be ours When our cares are ended.

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT

LITTLE BITS OF MARRIED LIFE.
In Pennsylvania last week a gentleman was spitting kindling wood in the back yard. His wife went to the back door to call him to dinner. Just as she approached he struck her with a tough stick of wood a vicious wallop with the axe and the stick flew through the air and struck his wife in the eye. She claimed in court that he had been trying to do that very thing for forty years, but had never succeeded before. Did she get the divorce? Yes, she got it. Any man who will hit his wife in the eye with a stick of wood, even accidentally, is about as popular with a jury as a wet spaniel in a millinery store.

In New York state a wife asked for a divorce for the reason that her husband insisted on having his pet collie sleep in the same bed with them. The jury broke all records returning a verdict for the plaintiff in two minutes and the gentleman and his collie have gone back to his father.

Who's Who Today

SENATOR SUTHERLAND.

The latest republican to enter the lists for the presidency is Senator Howard Sutherland of West Virginia. In an address to the candidates recently Sutherland said:

"I favor strongly the appointment of a cabinet which shall be composed of the ablest men to be found in the party who shall serve as a board of directors rather than as a board of managers and clerks."

"I am as opposed to a ru-less militaristic brand of politics as I am to a militaristic form of government. It should not, and I believe will not, be possible for a coterie of men to force the nomination of any man for the presidency by the immense expenditure of money. If our party shall fail, it will be by such means as Sutherland is not a native of the state which is sending him to congress. He was born near Kirkwood, Mo., in 1855, and was educated in Wisconsin, graduating from Washington college in that state in 1879. He served as editor of the Fulton, Mo., Daily Republican, 1889-90. In the latter year he removed to Washington, D. C., and three years later had risen from clerk in the population division of the census bureau to chief of the division. In 1893 he removed to Elkins, W. Va., where he served for ten years as the district clerk of the railroad and interests, becoming general land agent. In 1903 he went into the coal and timber land business on his own account.

Sutherland was a member of the West Virginia state senate, 1908-12, and a member of the lower house of congress from 1903 to 1917. In the latter year he was elected to the U. S. senate.
His present term will expire in 1921.
He was married in 1889 to a Missouri girl.
He is a member of the Presbyterian church. His home address is Elkins, W. Va.

LOOKING BACKWARD

FORTY YEARS AGO

April 26, 1880.—Mrs. Harriet Bostwick, wife of J. M. Bostwick, died at her home Saturday night, shortly before 10 o'clock. She was in her forty-third year. The husband died a few days afternoon from the home, on the corner of Court and Jackson streets and interment was in Oak Hill. Rev. D. E. Bierck, Racine, occu-pled the Presbyterian pulpit yesterday morning

April 26, 1890.—At the close of the concert last evening the college orchestra was invited to the home of Miss Etta Hanchett, South Jackson street, where they were entertained by several of Bowser City's daughters. Eighteen horses were shipped from this port last night.
Fifteen of them are headed for Scotland, and the others for the west.

Yeast Eaters

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

Washington, April 26.—Speaking astronomically, the yeast cake has swung into a favorable aspect in its orbit. From the point of view of the back-to-nature movement, and the yeast cake are all examples of natures which travel in cycles.
They are favored by the public for a while, and then discarded, only to return years later.

Food figures unobtrusively at all times in bread and cake, but every decade or so it is suddenly "discovered" as a cure for all evils. We are at the height of a yeast era.
Skinny folks are consuming yeast cakes at meals to become fat. Stout people are following the same treatment, claiming that it will make them thin. Men are taking yeast orange juice for indigestion, boils, and hookworm. A certain cafeteria serves yeast sandwiches, which are healthful and delicious, while we have it officially from a mutual friend that a young woman of our acquaintance crumbles a yeast cake in her daily chocolate soda to make her eyelashes grow.

No less remarkable than the wide range of ailments being driven out of existence by the little yeast cake are the results reported from its use.
Yeast cake addicts are an enthusiastic lot, and they are not without as joyful as the testimonials of any patent medicine chieftain.

Yeast Enthusiasm
We were yesterday at a time the yeast conversation of our friends, but when we chanced upon a group of kindred spirits gathered about a bottle of yeast, we were reminded that they had forgotten to open it in a heated discussion of yeast—well, the significance of the yeast situation could no longer be ignored.

After consulting with three government chemists, one economic expert, and a government doctor, we found that the subject is something of a mystery. Yeast has cured people of certain diseases, some terming it a "cure for good"—as far as But just how the little cake works, nobody knows.

Has Had Its Craze
The doctor interviewed explained that several times before there had been a craze for the use of yeast as a medicine, but each time a reaction set in, probably because it was not the cure-all people who acclaimed it, and because no scientific tests of its efficiency were made. Of course, yeast has been ignored except by foreigners and country people who occasionally take it in the spring as a tonic, like molasses and ginger.

It is always a safe question now-days for an interviewer to ask, "Did the present situation grow out of the past?" The yeast case is no exception. The craze for yeast, and its popularity may be directly traced to a war condition. What is more, the use of yeast as food and medicine was this time "discovered in Germany."

Even before the war the food supply was growing dangerously inadequate in central Europe. Experiments, then regarded as unimportant, were made to test the food value of brewers' yeast, especially as a fodder for cattle, because so many tons of yeast were thrown out by the breweries as waste.

Brewers' Yeast a Food
The war made the scientists speed up these experiments, and it was announced that brewers' yeast could be rid of its bitter flavor, and used to a large extent as a food. It was then stated that the German government had taken over the patents for mineral yeast, that is yeast produced by chemical means, and molasses —and would build a number of large factories to produce the artificial food as a part of the people's ration.

On the other hand, the war never carried out, but reports of the scientists' tests were spread abroad, and yeast rapidly gained a reputation as a builder of tissue and a source of energy.

Yeast Has Food Value
The yeast cake's food value is due supposedly to the richness of its mineral salts. There was a time when dietitians talked confidently of protein as a main matter of opinion.

Q. What city or town has made the greatest increase in population in the last 10 years? T. E. N.
A. Complete population statistics of the 1920 census are not available as yet, but up to April 16, the town showing the greatest gain in population was St. George, Utah. It had gained an increase within 10 years from 1,990 to 8,514, or 423 percent.
Prior to this the record was held by St. Louis, Mo., which had an increase of 255.3 percent.

Q. Has any of the treasure sunk during the war been recovered?
T. E. N.
A. Off the coasts of the British Isles alone treasure to the amount of two hundred fifty million dollars has been discovered since the war began.

Q. What is the statue on the rock of the national capitol? C. H.
A. The Statue of Freedom surmounts the dome of the capitol. It is a figure in bronze of a woman with a headpiece of eagle feathers.
Crawford modeled the statue and it is 19 and a half feet high and weighs 12,185 pounds.

Q. What is the statue on the dome in the United States? M. B.
A. Denver claims the longest course in this country and possibly in the world, since her new municipal course had been finished, measuring 6,772 yards.

Q. What diseases are supposed to follow an absence of vitamins in the food? R. W.
A. Scurvy, pellagra, and beri-beri are three of the recognized diseases that are directly traceable to a lack of sufficient vitamins in the food. Food that are particularly rich in vita-mines are fresh milk, butter, fresh fruit juices, yolks of eggs, meat juices, cereals and vegetables such as potatoes, spinach, onions, peas, cabbage, green corn, cauliflower, carrots, and lettuce.

Q. What is the fastest ship in the world? C. F. M.
A. The Olympic is the fastest ship afloat and made the world's record by crossing the Atlantic in four days and 26 hours.

Q. Is the tree still standing under which William Penn addressed the Indians on the peace pipe treaty?
I. M. D.
A. The Old Treaty Elm under which Penn is said to have made his treaty has been cut down. It is no longer standing, but there are a number of young elms in the park where it used to be, which are supposed to be descendants of the famous old tree.

Q. Does silage hurt concrete?
L. A. F.
Q. Do Catholics outnumber Protestants in Ireland and to any great extent? M. W. A.
A. The latest available statistics show that nearly three-fourths of the population of Ireland is of the Catholic faith.

Trade Agreements made By France and Germany

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Paris, April 26.—Trade agreements or commercial treaties by which France and Germany may stabilize markets and co-operate in some branches of commerce are forecast in a report of the foreign trade bureau.

Three industries, polish, iron and coke, and textiles, are taken up in the report, which shows the economic dependence of the two countries upon each other. German plants are said to be better equipped to do this work than in France, and in addition, afford a good market for the manufactured goods.

PAVILION BOOSTERS BEFORE CO. BOARD

Farm Bureau Committee Will Talk to County Board at First Session Tomorrow.

As a result of a meeting Saturday night of Farm Bureau directors, members, and others interested, a committee will wait upon the county board of supervisors when it convenes at the court house here at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in spring session, to petition for the presentation of a bill for the building of a county cattle sales pavilion. The land asked for is situated on Park street between the new and old jail. It is the site which the Lewis Knitting company tried to purchase from the board for $10,000 at the January session, but which the board refused to sell, the opinion being that the land might be used in the future for a county building.

Selection of a new chairman to succeed George W. Hull, Johnston, was made at the meeting. Mr. Hull, chairman of the farm bureau, will be made at the opening session. Mr. Hull, this city, and W. W. Dalton, Clinton, are mentioned for the place. Inasmuch as Janesville has not had a chairman in two years, it is believed that this city will be given the position.

Another matter which is scheduled to come up in the early part of the session is the purchase of the county tuberculosis sanatorium. Whether the county will sue Hugh Jennings, owner of the place, for alleged breach of contract in not living up to a report made to the board by the board, may be decided.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—is a mild but sure remedy, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. The pleasant taste of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets does not have any bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "fogy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "perk up" the spirits. 10c and 25c.

Grip, Influenza

Hamlin's Wizard Oil a Reliable, Antiseptic Preventive.

During influenza epidemics, spray the nose and throat several times a day with one part Wizard Oil and two parts water, using an atomizer. If you haven't an atomizer, gargle the throat and snuff the mixture up the nose. This treatment sets up an antiseptic wall of defense against "flu" germs.

Chest colds and sore throat lead to grip. Stop them at once with Wizard Oil before they can develop into dangerous influenza.

Get it from druggists for 30c. If not satisfied, return the bottle and get your money back.

Ever constipated or have sick headache? Just try Wizard Oil. Pleasant little pink pills, 30c at druggists. Guaranteed.

HOW'S YOUR BLOOD?

Pimples and Eruptions Mean Bad Blood

People who have impure or impoverished blood should be careful to take only a temperate remedy made of wild roots and bark, such as Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is and has been for nearly 50 years. Ingredients printed on wrapper.

The first day you start to take this reliable medicine, impure germs and impurities begin to secrete in the blood and are then expelled through the eliminative organs.

In place of the impurities, the arteries and veins gradually get fresh vitalized blood and the action of this good blood on the skin means that pimples, eruptions, carbuncles, etc., will disappear. Then you may remember that when the blood is right, the liver, stomach, bowels and kidneys become healthy, active and vigorous, and you will have no more trouble with indigestion, backache, headache.

Get Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery to-day at any medicine dealer, in tablet or liquid form, or send 10c for trial package to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

Write Dr. Pierce for free confidential medical advice or for free booklet on any chronic disease.

"But what crime, monsieur? You have not done anything on this side of the water, have you, that any one can get hold of?"
"Eh! I do nothing! Zey bring forged papers from France—perhaps zey extradite me before I can even say farewell to my child."
"But haven't you got some proofs on your side?" I ventured. "You can make it evident to the court."
"To—ze—court!" he fairly hissed the words. "Mon Dieu!—what is it you say? Ze messenger of ze emperor under arrest in America?" He drew out his handkerchief and wiped his brow. "Who does it matter if I prove zis or zat—I am under arrest—she is left at ze mercy of zozo scoundrels! I could kill zem were it not for my child!"

"Why not let Mrs. Delario take her immediately to California?" was the bright suggestion from me.
He met it with a look of scorn. "How far does madame get wis her? To Chicago? To Pittsburgh? Probably she does not even leave New York! She goes into a steamer, and a man and two men—a man and a woman, perhaps—step up to her and say, 'You are kidnapping zat young girl—out to ze court!—and zey take us immediately. And Madame Delario—what does she do? She goes wis zem—naturally, she dares not do otherwise. She gets into a steamer, and ze strange man and zey take her where zey please—she and a young girl can do nothing. I do not need to tell you zat I have no money, no influence, no zozo sings—I know how easy it will be, even in your boasted New York and your America—because I know ze people I have to deal with!"

I realized that that was the way he had fixed it for me—the time he sent me the decoy telegram, and I did not remind him of it. Instead, I admitted:

"Wouldn't it be so, it could be done. It wouldn't be so?"
"Zey don't want to zat," he broke in. "Mon Dieu! How is she to be saved?" He looked at me and there were tears in his eyes.

"We might appeal for police protection," which he met with some protest between a groan and a shriek. "I don't want to see her must exhaust all zat we can sink of to try—all places where we may hide, she and I."

"Mrs. Delario will conceal Claire, and for myself—" he stopped to consider this a moment and asked again: "You do not sink zat so-called detective suspect zat I am here?" "Well, zen I hide here for ze present."

"Oh, I can't keep you here!" I cried in some dismay.
"Zey don't want to do suggest it." He smiled a little. "But I can trust you to keep my confidence zat I have gone to my apartment below?"

"Yes, of course," I answered as cordially as I could. "But I am the prospect didn't fill me with any joy—a whole afternoon shut up alone with him and the diamonds!"

"It meant zat you had to stay here," I began, when the rumble of the dumb-waiter gave me another bright thought. "And the fire escape, you know, do, either one of them would be sure to see you. You'll have to go down by the dumb-waiter, and you'd better do it as soon as possible, or else the work comes back. And he will—I know he will."

"Monsieur considered this a moment and then asked: 'But how could I have inside my own apartment? Zey do zat little lift is shut and fastened on ze inside.'"

"I'll lend you my key and you can go to the door open. It's easy enough to do the elevator boy once get into my own flat that way for me when I had lost my key—bought an key from some one in a flat below and came up the dumb-waiter."

"Ah—I see," and he agreed with me. "I would be safer for him to go, thinking I might start him on his downward way and he rid of him before Billy came—and I was expecting him to return from Mrs. Delario's every minute and thought it much wiser to see him alone and hear the news about Claire—I stepped into the kitchen to get the lock and show monsieur how to use it on his door."

The dumb-waiter was rumbling up and up—apparently it was stopping at my flat, and thinking it might be something for me, or else a mistake for the flat below, to which I would have to call down. "You've got the wrong flat," I stopped my mouth, keeping in hand, to see if the bell would ring.

There was a slight pushing against the dumb-waiter, and three or four little clicks against the catch, such as the wind might make blowing up the shaft, had there been any wind to blow. Dinner Stories

An old sailor approached a farmer for a meal one day, saying he was willing to work.

"I'll give you a meal," said the farmer, "if you will read up those sheep in the pasture there and drive them into this fold."

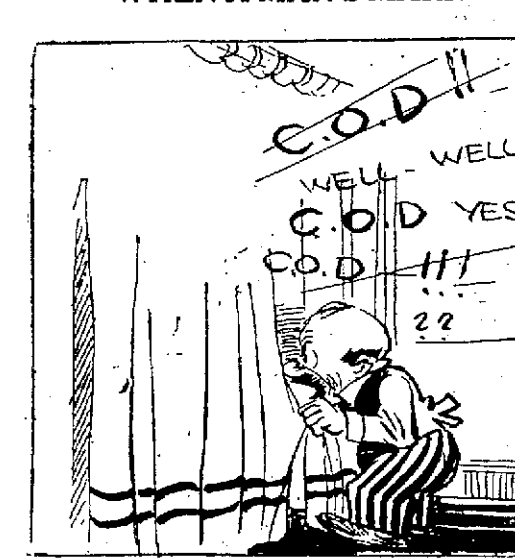

In three hours time the sailor came back looking hot, but happy. Glancing over the gate in the field, the farmer saw the sheep safely in the fold. "There's a jackrabbit sitting up among 'em," he exclaimed.

"And you will have no more trouble with indigestion, backache, headache. Get Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery to-day at any medicine dealer, in tablet or liquid form, or send 10c for trial package to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

Write Dr. Pierce for free confidential medical advice or for free booklet on any chronic disease.

Grand Rapids, Wis.—"I had stomach trouble for about eight years. Had to be very careful what I would eat or I would go down sick. I suffered something terrible about a year ago. I started to take 'Golden Medical Discovery' and two bottles put me in fine condition. I can eat anything and do not feel distressed. I had taken many medicines previous to this and had doctors prescribe for me, but nothing seemed to give me any relief."—MRS. EMIL OESTRICH, 212 14th Ave., North.
